TELEGRAPH SERVICE OF MANY SECTIONS STATE ENDANGERED, COURT IS INFORMED

Supreme Court Urged to Modify its Decision in Railroad Case

SIXTY-FOUR PERSONS PASS BAR EXAMINATION

Eleven Cases Will be Heard by the Alabama Public Service Commission

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 30.—

If the Supreme court does not modify its opinion in the case decided two weeks ago in which it held that the public service commission cannot compel the Louisville and Nashville railroad to maintain a telegraph service to twenty-one towns on its branch lines which was discontinued when the Western Union Telegraph Company withdrew last year, a precedent will be established which would permit the telegraph company to close its offices overnight and quit Alabama entirely and leave a great portion of the state without telegraph service, according to the brief of Harwell G. Davis, attorney-general, filed with the Supreme court today in support of an application for rehearing.

Attorney-General Davis, urgently requested the Supreme court to grant a rehearing and at least modify its opinion in order that the public interest may be protected. He argued that the Louisville and Nashville railroad dedicated a portion of its property to the telegraph business when it permitted the Western Union Telegraph Company to establish its poles and wires on the railroad's right-of-way and that the public obtained an interest which cannot be abandoned without the consent of a competent authority of the state.

Course Completed.

Sixty-four persons who passed the examinations of the law department of the University of Alabama this month were granted licenses to practice in all courts of Alabama by the Supreme court today. Then men have just graduated from the University law department which, under the law, gave them licenses in Alabama without standing the bar examination.

Many Cases.

Eleven cases will be heard by the public service commission at the June session June 6, according to announcement of the commission Saturday. A great majority of the cases involve petitions of the railroads to discontinue agencies in order to bring about a reduction in operating expenses. Two cases involve rates on water at Jasper and in the former case the Jasper Water Company is asking for an appraisal of property and the granting of such rates as will permit a reasonable return on the investment, while the Alabama Water Company has made the same request in the Attalla case.

First Order Issued.

General Henry C. Davidson, division commander of the Alabama division of United Confederate Veterans issued his first order from his headquarters here today when he appointed Col. M. B. Houghton of Montgomery as adjutant-general and chief of staff, and Col. Paul Sanguinetti of Montgomery, assistant adjutant-general and division treasurer.

General Davidson was made commander of the Alabama division at the annual reunion of the organization at Anniston last week.

Decision Delayed.

After the Supreme court had been in consultation on the impeachment case of John Strength, sheriff of Elmore county, for three hours, Chief Justice John C. Anderson at one o'clock Saturday afternoon announced that no decision would be rendered during the day. At that time the court recessed until next week.

There is no indication when a decision will be announced. There is a

"Spiritual Fox Hunt" is Conducted by Rev. Caldwell at the Westminster

Dr. J. W. Caldwell pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Huntsville who is in charge of the revival meeting now in progress at the Westminster Presbyterian church, exposed in a clear but agreeable manner some of the common blemishes in otherwise excellent people in his sermon of yesterday morning. His text was: "Take up the foxes the little foxes, that spoil the vines." The preacher named six little foxes in particular, calling them "Exactness," "Discretion," "Intolerance," "Stubbornness," "Repression," "Irritability" and "Faultfinding." Dr. Caldwell asked in the out set "give attention to yourself as I proceed and if you find you have any of the little foxes complained of running loose in your heart by the grace of God, we can catch them."

From the large and hearty response at the close of the sermon the little foxes had a bad inning during the discourse of the good visiting minister. The congregation, which filled the church comfortably, almost without exception, went forward to thank the preacher for his words of encouragement. Many were deeply moved by the truths uttered in the sermon.

Outline of Thought.

Outlining his discourse, Dr. Caldwell taught, that the Eastern vineyards, contained many foxes and fox holes, and that it was a habit of those animals to come out, during the bloom season of the grape vines play around over the vines and thus destroy the future crop and that from watch towers men kept the foxes out by night because if they once got to running among the vines it was next to impossible to remove them, without great danger to the vineyard. Hunt for the six varieties.

The speaker then led a spiritual fox hunt, mentioned above. "We know from his atmosphere who the voracious, little fox of fault-finding," "Unless to protect others," said the preacher, "or to help those you criticize you have no business with this fox. I had rather be a thief, than a gossip. The little foxes of fault-finding, cuts the cords of sympathy. They will destroy natural affection between members of the same family."

"Bad temper is the first cousin of faultfinding. Irritability is of the devil. Looming your temper is not a small matter. You cannot be decent and have a bad temper. Exploding with violent words is all meanness."

In this connection, the speaker told an interesting story of a church woman from whom he dodged when she threw a big Irish potato at the negro cook. The woman who afterwards repented, as she saw she was about to lose her children's confidence saw the speaker dodge, and then turned her guns of anger off on the negro, and on to him. Dr. Caldwell said he countered, by telling the woman and her angry husband, who both attacked him, that excuses did not go that all this talk about being born mad would not work, that the Devil himself was behind it all. He said he was the guest in the home of the man and woman in question, at the time of his informal sermon to them. Another helpful story of the preacher was, that when he was pressed by an elder of a certain church to become his pastor, to know why he refused, replied: "I hear you become ugly every time things do not go to suit you."

Speaking of "contrariness," Dr. Caldwell, intimated that fox, came of feeble-mindedness. He got that thought to his hearers saying: "I go slow on this contrary stubbornness, as darts aimed at it strike above the eyes."

He said a certain handsome girl, "as do many others," married a man whom she herself described as so contrary that if he should by chance mount his mule with his face toward its tail, he would ride all the way to town rather than reverse himself.

Not a Sermon for Entertainment.

Despite the many interesting things said by Dr. Caldwell, his sermon was not of the entertainment variety. He was at no time of a light disposition, but had a serious message in all he said.

He got in his most effective blows, when speaking of the sin of "Unappreciativeness" he was discoursed under the head "Repression." It was announced that no service would be held in the day, Monday, but that tonight the regular service would be held, when the relations of the "good" and the "wicked" will be discussed, according to the texts announced by Dr. Caldwell yesterday morning. Dr. Goodwin was not present yesterday, as according to agreement, he was due to preach at the Central church of Huntsville, filling the pulpit for Dr. Caldwell. An inspiring song service featured yesterday morning's service, including a beautiful solo by Miss Mary Penick.

Tribute is Paid American Dead on French Soil

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 30.—France united with America today in paying memorial day honor to the American soldier dead who lie on French soil. The weather was fine and great crowds were in attendance at every point where observances were held.

The principal celebration was at Surenne cemetery, a short distance from this city where many fallen American warriors lie. The chief speakers at these ceremonies were Hugh C. Wallace, American ambassador to France; Marshall Petain and General Allen, commander of the American forces on the Rhine. Marshal Petain urged the necessity of keeping Franco-American relations closely linked, recalling the fraternal unity of war days.

Ambassador Wallace said that if the "gold star" mother of America could see how the graves of their sons were being cared for by tender French hands, they would be content to let the bodies rest on French soil.

BERGDOLL WRATHY OVER THE SEIZURE OF HIS PROPERTY

(Special to The Daily.)

BERLIN, May 30.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, rich American draft dodger who is now a refugee in Bayden, is wrathful over the seizure of his property in the United States by the American government and contended today that such action was illegal.

"The seizure of my property was absolutely illegal. The alien property law cannot apply to American citizens. I am not a German citizen but an American and I am entitled to all my rights under the law. The move is only calculated to worry my mother and to give the lawyers and politicians the chance for graft," Bergdoll said.

"I shall not return to the United States until amnesty is granted."

PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT ARLINGTON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Standing on the edge of the great national burial ground where lies the honored dead of all the wars in which America has engaged, President Harding this afternoon paid full measure of tribute to those who died that the republic might live and with it he coupled a plea that the nation reconsecrate itself to the ideals for which they died, the preservation of the union and the advancement of humanity.

With the return of peace the President said there was a breakdown in the national morale and "we find ourselves halting when we ought to move forward. We need a patriotism resolute in peace as well as a patriotism aflame in war."

"In the inspiration that we may gain through today's contemplation of the deeds of these, the heroes of all our wars we are called to look toward tomorrow's obligations."

The President spoke in the great white marble amphitheatre on the outskirts of Arlington cemetery, overlooking the Potomac and the capital city itself. In his audience which numbered thousands were the blue and grey veterans of civil strife and the khaki clad veterans of the world war.

First Bale of 1921 Crop Sold in Texas City

Local cotton growers have been much interested in announcement that the first bale of the 1921 cotton crop has been sold in Houston, Texas. The sale was made on May 27, the earliest date on record. The best previous record was made in 1916 where the first bale was received on June 9.

PLANT DESTROYED.

HATTISBURG, MISS., May 30.—Fire late Sunday night destroyed the Brookhaven Lumber company's plant including planers, dry sheds and a large amount of cured lumber. The loss was estimated at about $200,000. The plant will be rebuilt.

METHODISTS SHOW FINE RESULTS FOR COLLEGE FUND ON DRIVE'S FIRST DAY

Many Thousands are Given for Church's Christian Educational Fund

REPORTS OF PASTORS INDICATE PROGRESS

Chairmen and Their Committees Are Active in the Campaign

Beginning yesterday afternoon the Methodist congregations of the Twin Cities, began their canvass for the respective quotas, to what is known as the "College Fund" of the Centenary Movement.

The work will continue for the whole of this week, and the churches in the "drive" are the Central of Albany, First of Decatur and the ninth street of Albany. Rev. J. W. Curl said that his workers were not yet ready to report, as many of his congregation were out of town yesterday.

Melvin Hutson, chairman of the Central Methodist church said that about half of the large membership of that church, had been seen and that the entire congregation would be solicited by the end of the week. He said that the quota assumed by his people was $2,500.00 and that the amount was sure to be raised.

Speaking for his church Rev. Geo. M. Davenport said that the First Methodist sent out 86 workers yesterday, and that $10,000.00 of the $11,000.00 in sight was fully pledged, leaving a balance due of $1,000.00 which amount Rev. Davenport said would be easily secured.

It is pointed out by leaders that the hundreds of thousands promised by wealthy church people in other sections of the country, would not be given unless the Alabama Methodists came up with their full quotas.

FIRE DAMAGE

Small damage was done by fire at 10 o'clock last night when flames destroyed a barn on the lot belonging to J. A. Rogers, 1817 Seventh avenue South.

CHEERING MESSAGE SENT BY PRESIDENT TO COTTON MEETING

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Any disaster to the cotton industry will be a disaster to the entire country and the administration desires in every possible way to co-operate in remedying the critical situation that now exists in the cotton industry, president Harding today told the members of the cotton association, meeting in New York, over long distance telephone.

The importance of cotton is not confined to any section; everybody either grows, deals in, manufactures, or sells or uses it. Any disaster to the cotton industry must necessarily be a disaster to the whole country and a movement such as yours which aims to promote the best interests of all concerned must have the cordial approval of all people," he said.

Speed Demons Get Good Start at Indianapolis

(International News Service)

MOTOR SPEEDWAY, INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 30.—Parading at a stride of a mile a minute on the first two and one half miles, then bursting into a cyclonic rush of speed, the 23 entrants in the 500 mile international sweepstakes race got away to a good start promptly at 10 o'clock this morning.

Three abreast with Ralph DePalma holding the select position at the post, the race stars paraded once about the track before a crowd of 135,000 which filled the stands and lined the rails and at the bursting of the starting bomb, they ripped over the road on the quest of a $100,000 in prizes.

All the 23 entrants made better than the 80 miles an hour required to qualify.

PROBE IS STARTED OF AIR DISASTER, COST SEVEN LIVES

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Formal investigation of the worst aviation accident in the history of America, which cost the lives of seven men when a great Curtiss-Eagle plane crashed at Indian Head Saturday night, is in progress today by order of Secretary of War Weeks.

Lieutenant Paul C. Wilkins, who was sent to the scene of the disaster, on returning here stated that he had made a preliminary investigation and found that an electric storm had caused the trouble.

Lieutenant Wilkins stated that in his opinion the pilot could not have avoided the disaster and that the elements must be blamed.

Arrangements were being made today for funeral ceremonies for the dead who are: Lieutenant Stanley Ains, pilot of the plane; Lt. Col. Archie Miller; Maurice Connolly, former member of Congress from Iowa; A. G. Bachelier, chairman of the executive board of the American Automobile Association; Sgt. Richard Blumenkranz; Lieutenant Cleveland McDermott and Lieutenant John M. Pennywell.

C. cadets, will be seen in the parade which will be followed by singing of patriotic songs by 200 school children and addresses commemorating the valor of American soldier dead at Woodrow Wilson park.

TWINS MEET THE TRIPLETS MONDAY IN CRUCIAL SERIES OF PENNANT HUNT

Many Sheffield Bugs Accompany Team Over Here This Afternoon

"CY" GRAHAM DEFEATS THE TENNESSEE MULES

Columbia Fans Breathe Real Sigh of Relief as Twins Depart

Columbia fans today breathed a sigh of real relief. The Twins had departed from their midst and moved home to take on the Triplets from Sheffield, Florence and Tusculum. The Twins before their departure were presented with muleteer's straw hats in honor of their departure by an appreciative Columbia fan. The Mules met the Twins six times last week and five of the games were defeats for the Mules. That's fair enough from a local viewpoint.

With a pitching staff somewhat awry as a result of Ware's call to umpiring duties in Sheffield, Shelton's delay in reporting and the fact that Mosely was left here to round into shape for the opening of the Sheffield series, Manager McDuff Saturday called on "Cy" Graham, star of the local city league and Graham got an excellent game out of his system, holding the Mules to 8 hits and defeating them 5 to 4.

Sheffield Strong.

Breeding along with 10 victories and only two defeats, the Twins this afternoon face a crucial series. Sheffield is admittedly one of the strongest teams in the Alabama-Tennessee circuit. The Triplets open here this afternoon confident they will be able to break the winning streak of the locals. A large number of fans accompanied the squad here and it was rumored that the team has been strengthened for the series.

ALABAMA POWER DEFEATS LEGION

The Alabama Power Company continued its winning streak in the city league Saturday afternoon, defeating the Legion 11 to 6 in a hard fought game which went seven innings by agreement. Aycock's support was wobbly in the opening innings and the Legion got away to a three run lead. Later his teammates tightened up and Aycock put on the brakes. The Legion team showed a marked reversal from the form exhibited Thursday in the contest with the Spencer club.

THE MESSAGE OF THE CHIMEES

Hark, there comes from yonder tower
Sweetest music, new and old;
Bringing to our very heartstones,
Invitations to the fold.

Listen as the sounds come closer—
"Jesus, Lover of my soul!"—
Like a benediction comes it,
Telling of that restful goal.

Words come not from yonder tower,
Only music pure and sweet;
But the message is familiar,
'E'en to those with straying feet.

List again, the music changes,
Now again, the music changes,
Now we hear a martial air;
"Onward Christian Soldiers, Onward."

Oh, be strong to do and dare.
E'en the careless and neglectful,
Sing it as they come and go;
Thrusting to the background
meanwhile

Sordid thoughts of friends and foe.
Now comes sweetly in the gloaming,
"Abide with me, 'tis eventide;"
And our hearts go up in prayer,
"Lord with me 'e'en me abide."

Chimes like those must have a mission
As they sound both far and near;
Stirring memories oft forgotten,
By their message strong and clear.
—Marion Grey.

Persian Bread Has Many Uses.

At Kasvin, Persia, a British patrol base, we were lodged in empty wards of the military hospital, writes Mary E. Griscom in Asia Magazine. Our provisions had almost given out by this time, and we were reduced to Persian stone bread. So far as I know, only the coconut and the bamboo serve more purposes than the flaps of Persian bread, which about two feet long, one foot wide and a quarter of an inch thick. If it is raining, the Persians use them on their heads as umbrellas; and if it is sunny, as parasols; in winter, they wrap the flaps around their shoulders.
If they do not need them for protection they roll them up and carry them under their arms. In the hospitals they spread them out on empty beds to dry.

Up the Flowery Mountain.

Every year thousands of Chinese pilgrims risk their lives in climbing up the side of Hwa-Shan, the Flowery mountain, which is sacred to the Taoist religion. Any one reaching the temple far above is supposed to have any request granted as a reward for valor and endurance. The Hwa-Shan mountain is over 6,000 feet high, and the ascent in many places must be made along a narrow ledge of branches laid on posts driven horizontally into the face of the precipice. There are no handrails, but a chain held on a rock face offers some security to the ascending or descending pilgrim.

Mirrors That Do Not Reflect.

The people of Manchuria are extravagantly fond of mirrors. Largely they are used for ornamental purposes, being so adorned with flowers, birds, and even landscapes painted on them as to be practically unserviceable as looking glasses. The cigarette cases and purses carried by the young men of the well-to-do class usually contain small mirrors, of which their owners make constant use as do young women in our own country of glasses in vanity boxes.

They Travel Fast and Long.

Every year 250,000,000 silkworms produce 80,000,000 pounds of raw silk.
It has been estimated that, taken all together, the world's silkworms spin very year at a velocity of about 4,700 miles a second a thread of approximately 150,000,000,000 miles in length.

The Great Business Class Room of 1921

Successful American business men are studying current conditions. More of them are coming to think their way to and through shifting situations, such as are presented by new problems of distribution. They are finding facts and facing them.

They have discovered that by groups they grapple best with stubborn questions of policy and practice. Trade troubles seem to yield to the inspiration and concentration of mass thought and discussion. Impulses merge, desires fuse, and great good grows out of agreement on purposes and goals.

These advertising meetings have come to be known as Business Class Rooms. One of the greatest of these will assemble in Atlanta in June, the

Seventeenth Annual Convention

Associated Advertising Clubs of the World

Atlanta, June 12-16

Thousands of men from hundreds of cities will gather in this five-day University of Experience. They will assemble to exchange cash-drawer ideas and share long-cherished ideals.

Come! Give and take in this Great Business Class Room!

Exhibits of Domestic and Foreign Advertising, demonstrating the use of practically all recognized mediums, and arranged solely with a view to helping the convention delegate, will be a special feature which, alone, will make the trip worth while.

In June, Atlanta is at its best. High on a ridge between the Gulf and the Atlantic, fanned by cooling breezes and clad in gay summer attire, it is, as proved by United States Weather Bureau reports, a delightful place in June.

TERRORISM TO BE MANNING DEFENSE

COVINGTON, Ga., May 30.—Declaration that he was "in a state of terror" through the actions of John S. Williams and therefore was not responsible for his act as executioner of Georgia's murder farm, was made here today by Clyde Manning, plantation boss, as he went to trial in the courtroom where Williams was last month sentenced to life imprisonment.

Manning made the declaration through his attorneys, who said this would form the main basis for the defense. There was little evidence of interest in the trial of the negro who confessed he helped to kill more than a dozen negro laborers on the Williams plantation.

Manning was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and the work of selecting a jury began. Only a small panel had been called and bailiffs were sent into the streets for additional jury prospects.

NEWS OF MOULTON
AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, May 30.—(Special.)

A very important happening in Lawrence County that of the regular meeting of the Board of Education at Moulton Friday. An unusually large amount of business was transacted in behalf of the schools of the county. Delegations from Mount Hope, Hatton, and Masterson appeared before the board in behalf of their respective schools. Each of the foregoing schools is run eight months in large part by local means, and each is becoming a school center at which it is hoped in time Junior High Schools may be established.

Among the many matters of business transacted was the decision to make the terms of office of trustees for two years beginning the first of June following the regular meeting on the last Friday in May, consideration of financing the county high school located in Moulton, a salary schedule in keeping with that recommended by the State Department of Education, additional teachers in overcrowded districts and the discontinuance of two or three schools.

Important steps were taken looking to the ultimate adoption of the new six-three-three course of study, by arranging for giving another year of uniform county examinations for the sixth, and the ninth grades, and the adoption for the present of a course of study in keeping with that recommended by the state; the grading of the schools as Grades A and B for those which run less than eight months and those that run eight or more months; the grouping of the schools in the county by associating a number of districts with some central district at which the grades above the sixth may be taught; and the decision to require as far as possible, all children who are beginners to enter at the opening of the schools or wait until the following session unless they come within the compulsory attendance limit.

Another important step was the dividing of the county into fourteen attendance districts and the selection of an attendance officer in each district.

It was also decided to employ an Elementary school supervisor another year since the results this session have more than justified the expenditure.

J. F. Yarbrough, County Demonstration Agent continues his good work among the club boys and girls of the county. There is a large number in the county this year than ever before. In the past week he has worked with those west of Moulton and north at the Mount Moriah School and he is encouraging them to prepare for the Community Fair to be held next fall at Hatton and which promises to be even more successful than that of either the past year or the year before. At the latter part of this week a meeting is to be held with the boys and girls down near Courtland at the Shackelford school.

MAKE YOUR OWN DATES FOR "CLEAN UP WEEK"

With a desire of carrying out the proposal of Bishop Jones, upon the recommendation of your committee the Area Council unanimously adopts the week from May 23 to 28th as Area Clean Up Week. The Sunday previous, every pastor is to preach a special sermon on "cleanliness" of every kind and description. Wide awake laymen, serving in any capacity, as well as the entire church of officers are asked to take a leading and active part in this event.

John Wesley said: "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" and the world has come to know and accept the statement at face value. Every effort will be made to make this movement, not only a success for this year, but a annual affair, when rubbish of every kind will be either burned, buried or carted away, fences, outhouses, barns, cabins and dwellings, will be white washed, or painted, after being put in good order.

Window panes, doors, steps, front and back, sidewalks and privies and the like will be fixed. The walls papered or white washed; or painted and everything around the home and church made home-like and inviting. Fine buildings count, but any place can be made the attraction of the community, by beautifying. Nature leads off in doing such things, and we can well follow her example and see to it, that the things about us are made beautiful and attractive.

In order to encourage in this matter, Bishop Jones has supplied many of the District Superintendents with Kodaks, pictures are to be made on the "before" and "after" taking order, and an exhibit made at Conference time, so that others may see the improvements and know what every church, charge, parsonage and community may look like.—Southwestern Christian Advocate.

Those who failed to observe "Clean-Up" week on the dates above are requested to extend the time to suit themselves, but let the good work go on.

The quota of college students belonging to Moulton has begun to return from the work of the year at various institutions. Emmett Perry, who has just completed the law course at the University is at home ready to listen to those who have complaints to make and seek justice at the hands of the bar. Gordon Stephenson, with Woodfin Sandlin, of Alabama is expected home in a few days. Horace Holland from the Florence Normal and Robert Pickens of the navy, will reach home soon.

A spinal X-ray examination had to be made for J. H. Brewer, of Moulton, Friday last. A needle was imbedded in his foot requiring him to be taken to Albany for the examination; the needle was taken out by Dr. John Bragg.

Julia Ray Bryant, the little granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Going Windham, of Moulton, has returned from the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Talladega where she has been for the past session. The child is a very bright eight year old and is a striking evidence of what the institute can accomplish for the unfortunate deaf and dumb; through her grandparents those having an interest in such work have planned that five or six more such children may have the advantages of the school next year.

Judge J. E. Kump left for a week end visit in Chattanooga Saturday; he took with him his two little boys, Carlos and Robert James, who will spend the summer with their aunt at that place.

Mrs. Bettie Almon returned Saturday from Decatur where she has been visiting Dave Almon and family for the past several days.

Revenue men from the Birmingham district, assisted by the local enforcers of the law, took another still in charge out five or six miles south of Moulton Friday night, six gallons of whiskey were said to have been taken also.

Messrs. Jack Smith, R. C. Jackson, and J. T. Howell, prominent merchants from Mount Hope and school trustees were in Moulton Friday, having just returned from the meeting of the Board of Education at which they are members.

Messrs. J. M. Houston, of Town Creek, and R. E. Coburn, of Courtland, were in Moulton Friday attending the meeting of the Board of Education of which they are members.

R. L. Prince, of Union Springs, is visiting in Moulton this week.

W. H. Moles was in Albany-Decatur on business last Friday.

T. F. Almon went to Decatur Saturday.

Silas Black, from Baltimore, is at home in Moulton now.

Amusement

STRONG APPEAL IN "DEEP PURPLE."

(Delite Today.)

Those hungering for a picture play that will tie all of their emotions into a very tight knot should see "The Deep Purple" at the Delite Theatre today. The opening title announces this picture as an R. A. Walsh production. It is developed from Paul Armstrong's and Wilson Mizner's famous stage play, "The Deep Purple" and is an excellent screen melodrama, free from the cheap trickery, and exaggerated situations which usually feature film thrillers.

In the cast are Miriam Cooper in the leading role, with Stuart Sage playing opposite and Vincent Serrano as the villain. Miss Cooper makes a most appealing country girl and Stuart Sage is a real two-fisted mining engineer who brings into the story the wholesomeness of the great outdoors. Helen Ware, who will be remembered best as a Broadway star, does some character work as an underworld type which makes a deep impression on the audience. It is through this character that Director Walsh carries his message of good.

Compass at South Pole. At the South magnetic pole, which is a long way from the geographical South pole, a compass needle suspended so as to swing in a vertical position with the south end downward. An ordinary compass needle suspended so as to swing horizontally only becomes sluggish near the poles, the magnetic force of the earth tending to pull one end of the needle down, instead of making the needle swing.

Sympathy's Cheaper. "It's all right to sympathize with the under dog in a fight," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "but a fellow would be a fool to bet on him."

possibility that the court may desire stenographic notes on the testimony in order that the evidence may be gone over again. In this event there will be a delay of several days. All members of the court sat in the case.

Sheriff Strength remained in Montgomery throughout Saturday hoping that the court would hand down a decision in his favor without delay. He returned to Wetumpka when the court announced that no decision would be reached during the afternoon.

Plan go Forward.

Every state in the south which retired from the United States government during the war between the state and became allied with the Confederate States of America will be represented at the dedication of the First White House of the Confederacy as a Southern shrine in Montgomery next Friday, according to announcement of the general committee on arrangements Saturday night.

The governors of all southern states have been invited and several have informed the committee that they will attend if their duties do not prevent. The ceremony will begin at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with a parade through Commerce street and up Dexter avenue to the capitol where the Confederate Congress was organized and where Jefferson Davis took the oath as the first and only president of the Confederate States. In this parade will be all civic organizations of Montgomery, including the chamber of commerce, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and Exchange Club.

The arrangements committee was advised Saturday that the war department had ordered the Camp Benning band to come here for the parade. Up to this time the Shriner and other Alabama bands have been procured.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi will deliver the formal address from an improvised stand on the capitol lawn at five o'clock, after which there will be an informal reception to all visitors at the First White House and the doors will be formally thrown open. This building was purchased by the state and erected on a lot obtained through an appropriation made by the legislature of 1919. The dedication of the building as a shrine to the south and has resulted from the efforts of the First White House Association, which have continued through many years.

MORGAN DELEGATES NAMED BY TROUP

TAUGHT LESSON BY HUNGER

Good Story of How Franklin Was Converted to the Idea of Fish as Human Food.

One day Benjamin Franklin—James Parton tells us in his "Life of Benjamin Franklin"—was on a sloop which was becalmed on a certain island. The sailors, as is still the custom when a ship is becalmed, amused themselves by fishing. Franklin witnessed the catching of the fish with regret. But soon there came to tantalize his nostrils a most alluring odor from the frying pan. So, as Franklin used to tell the story, he went over his reasoning again to see if there was not a flaw in it.

It occurred to him that when the fish were opened he had seen smaller fish in their stomachs.

"Ah!" said Franklin. "If you eat one another I don't see why we may not eat you!"

You'll save Money by remodeling now

You who have been waiting for lower prices before you laid that hardwood floor, renewed those old walls and ceilings, re-roofed the house or barn, or built the garage—this message is directed to you.

Do you know that lumber and building material prices are down forty per cent?

Do you know that you can repair or remodel cheaper than at any time in the past five years?

Do you realize that every day you wait not only inconveniences you but costs you real money?

Building material prices may come down more—we think not—but every day you delay in getting the new garage deprives you of the use of it, and causes you to pay out money for garage rent.

Every day you delay roofing the barn and the home, makes your property more liable to damage from storm. Every day you put off inside repairs the trouble in creases and the total expense becomes greater.
